Essen/ Hofheim am Taunus, 19 December 2025: Instone Real Estate ('Instone'), a residential developer operating throughout Germany, has sold 20 subsidised apartments in the new 'Kant & Gloria' residential quarter in Hofheim am Taunus to Hofheimer Wohnungsbau GmbH (HWB). In addition to the residential building, the forward deal also includes a three-group day-care centre with up to 49 childcare places, as well as underground and outdoor parking spaces. The residential units create a total of around 1,150 m<sup>2</sup> of living space, range in size from 45 to 88 m<sup>2</sup> and each have a balcony or roof terrace. In total, the quarter will feature over 100 apartments with a mix of subsidised, price-controlled and privately financed options.

Sascha Querbach, Rhine-Main Branch Manager at Instone Real Estate Development GmbH, says: "We are delighted that we can now move forward with the project. The Kant & Gloria development will provide attractive yet affordable living space and social infrastructure in the neighbourhood – laying the foundation for a good life. Sustainability and quality of life are at the heart of the project. The sale of the price-controlled apartments to HWB ensures that they are of lasting benefit to the Hofheim housing market."

Wilhelm Schultze, Mayor of the district town of Hofheim am Taunus and chairman of the HWB supervisory board, says: "Childcare places are one of the most important issues affecting people in our town. Kant & Gloria is setting an important example here: in addition to providing additional living space, it is creating a day-care centre that will significantly expand our much-needed childcare provision. I would like to thank Instone and HWB for their dedicated collaboration."

“The economic situation in our country and in our municipality is not easy. It is therefore a great success that, together with Instone, we have achieved a major breakthrough for our town in terms of creating living space and childcare places, and I would like to express my sincere thanks to everyone involved for their excellent cooperation,” says Hofheim’s Deputy Mayor and Head of the Building Department, Daniel Philipp. In this context, it is worth mentioning Instone’s redesign, which has enabled two additional apartments to be built in another building, for which funding had already been applied for. This means that a total of 22 subsidised apartments can be built in the overall ‘Kant & Gloria’ project.

“The acquisition of these apartments is a strategic investment in the municipal housing portfolio. It enables us to create housing options for broad sections of the population in Hofheim,” adds Norman Diehl, CEO of Hofheimer Wohnungsbau GmbH. “The collaboration with Instone is goal-oriented and reliable, allowing us to implement projects such as this one and ease the strain on the tight housing market.”

The quarter is being built to the Efficiency House 40 standard. An air-water heat pump combined with a photovoltaic system and extensive green roofs supports climate-friendly and sustainable living. Construction is scheduled to begin in spring 2026 and be completed in mid-2028.

Covering an area of approximately 8,000 m<sup>2</sup>, the site on Homburger Straße, once the location of a machine factory, is just a few minutes' walk from the city centre and the S-Bahn station, combining a central location with a quiet residential environment. Local amenities, schools, cultural offerings and sports and leisure facilities are all in the immediate vicinity, as are green spaces.
